

2. For the first graph interaction between two species for 20 days showed species 1 as the winner. But when time changed from 20 to 100 days, the graph showed species 2 as the winner. This shows that short term ecological experiments may not accurately display the effects between species.

3. The “Effect of Deer on Tree Populations” sounds like an interesting topic I would like to contribute.